NEGRO SAYS FRANK IS THE MURDERER

In Gruesome Story Tells How Factory Girl Was Slain.

WOMEN BARRED FROM TRIAL

Negro Witness Charges That Defendant Killed Mary Phagan Because She Repulsed Undesirable Attentions

Atlanta, Ga., August 4.—Counsel for Leo M. Frank, on trial for the murder of Mary Phagan, spent the entire afternoon today in a gruelling cross-examination of James Conley, negro sweeper at the pencil factory where the girl's body was found. Cross-examination had not been concluded when court adjourned.

The negro earlier in the day accused the defendant of being a degenerate, and charged that Frank killed the little factory girl because she repulsed his undesirable attentions.

While this sensational testimony resulted in a court order barring women from the trial, no reference was made directly in the cross-examination to this part of the negro's testimony. Counsel for the defense volleyed question after question at the negro in what they explained was a test of his memory.

Witness Under Guard

By agreement of counsel for the defense and prosecution the negro tonight was placed in solitary confinement, his guards were forbidden to converse with him. They also were ordered to deny admission to any visitors.

Little was brought out in the cross-examination.

After Conley had repeatedly stated in reply to questions that he "didn't know or didn't remember" he was asked by counsel for the defense:

"The truth about this matter is, Jim, that you told so many stories that you can't tell what you did tell, can you?"

"No, sir, I can't tell whether it's true or not," the witness replied.

"Isn't it the truth, Jim, that you made one verbal statement at the police station, and after that made three affidavits, and none of them was true?"

"No, sir; some is true," replied Conley.

As an excuse for discrepancies in his stories of the murder Conley declared: "I just didn't want to give the man away. I thought he'd look out for me."

He added that when he told things that were not true, he either hung his head, twirled his fingers or didn't look at the person to whom he was speaking.

"I didn't look 'em straight in the eye like I'm looking at you," he added. Conley was being questioned in regard to the affidavits given to detectives shortly after the murder, when court adjourned until tomorrow.

Conley testified today that he helped Frank dispose of the girl's body after she had been killed by Frank.

After three minor witnesses had been examined Conley was led to the witness stand by Chief of Police Beavers and Chief of Detectives Lanford.

In his testimony he declared that on several occasions he stood on guard for Frank, when the latter was closeted in his office with women. Frank, according to the negro's testimony, was accustomed to stamping on the floor when he desired Conley to keep watch. The negro testified Mary Phagan went to the office of Frank about noon on the day of her disappearance. Shortly thereafter, he testified, Frank stamped on the floor and the negro took his accustomed post.

Tells of the Murder

Only a short time had escaped, according to the negro, when he heard a muffled scream. A few minutes later he was summoned by Frank, the latter, according to the negro's testimony, apparently being greatly excited. Conley testified that the factory superintendent's face was crimson; his body and legs were trembling and that he clutched a cord with both hands.

"Hit Her Too Hard"

"I wanted her and she resisted me," Frank exclaimed, according to Conley. "You know I'm not like other men. I hit her too hard."

Conley was asked what he thought Frank meant by his statement that he was "not like other men." The negro described to the court two alleged incidents which led him to the conclusion that Frank was a degenerate. These two incidents, according to the negro were observed when Conley unexpectedly encountered Frank with a woman.

Conley told of going at Frank's direction to the metal room, where he found the body of Mary Phagan.

Disposition of the Body

The negro testified that the girl's body was lying on the floo rface up. He said he knew at once that she was dead because she "didn't move and she didn't breathe." The witness stated that he put the body of the girl in a gunny sack and tied the sack "like a washer woman ties clothes." Putting the bundle on his shoulder, the negro, according to his testimony, then started toward the elevator. When about half way acros sthe room, the body slipped from his shoulder and fell to the floor. He called to Frank for assistance and they together, he testified, carried the girl's body to the elevator. Apparently the current was cut off, and the elevator wouldn't run. Frank, according to Conley, then went to his office, secured the key to the switchbox an dreturning unlocked the box and turned on the current. Both descended with the body to the basement, where the body was left on a pile of rubbish near the furnace, the negro said.

Writing of the Note

Conley then told of returning to Frank's office where, he claimed the factory superintendent offered $200, and where, the negro claimed, he wrote the notes at Frank's dictation, which were foun dnear the body of the girl. Conley testified that Frank continued to become more nervous while in the office. Walking back and forth and wringing his hands, Conley stated that Frank explained: "Why should I hang, I have wealthy relatives in Brookline?"

"But what's going to happen to me?" Conley said he asked Frank.

"I'll take care of you all right," Conley said Frank replied and handed him a roll of bills containing $200.

According to the negro's testimony, Frank then told him to go down into the basement, gather up some chips, put the min the furnace, and put the girl's body on top of them. The negro stated that he told the factory superintendent he was afraid to go into the basement alone, but would go if Frank would accompany him.

"You see, I was willing to do this too, gentlemen," Conley testified, as he turned toward the jury.

Frank, according to the witness, refused to go to the basement, and took back the $200 which he had given Conley, saying that he would keep it for him. Frank, the negro said, told him to leave the building, but to come back in about 40 minutes. As Conley was leaving the building, Frank accompanied him to the stairway, according to the witness, with his arm thrown over the negro's shoulder.

REDUCTION OF EXPRESS RATES

Sweeping Order Issued by Interstate Commerce Commission—Companies Will Likely Fight The Investigation.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Reductions in express rates which will cost the companies fully $26,000,000 a year, approximately 16 per cent of their gross revenue, were ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission today to become effective on or before October 15, 1913. Notable reforms in practices also were ordered.

The most important change prescribed by the order is by way of modification of the present graduated scale of parcel rates. One hundred pound rates for short distances either have been left unchanged or slightly reduced; for longer distances they have been lowered; for 50 pounds or less all rates have been practically reduced. For packages more than four pounds going more than 200 miles and less than 2,000 the new express rates are generally lower than the parcel post rates; for more than 3,000 miles the rates are practically the same.

The report and order of the Commission prepared by Commissioner John H. Marble, are virtually affirmation of the findings of former Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, now Secretary of the Interior.

By prescribing a so-called block system, dividing the United States into 950 blocks, averaging 2,500 square miles, as originally proposed by Mr. Lane, 900,000,000 different rates now published by the express companies will be reduced to less than 650,000 and the Interstate Commerce Commission believes that the system points the way to a solution of the existing maze of freight rates.

Express Companies Will Fight.

The general impression in official quarters is that the express companies will attempt to test by legal means the constitutionality of the Commission's order.

The requirement of the order of June 8, 1912, that a label shall be attached to each parcel is modified to the extent that, in case of shipments of perishable packages, the label need be attached to only one package.

The express companies had filed statements indicating that the losses of revenue under the proposed rates would be intolerable and argued strenuously that the establishment of the parcel post had deprived them of quite 30 per cent of the revenue they formerly received from parcels of 11 pounds or less. They contended that the express business could not survive the losses from both sources.

The decision of the Commission, deferred as it has been for more than a year, followed an investigation that occupied nearly six years of hearings, special examinations of accounts and reports covering in detail the various phases of the express business. Nearly a carload of books and papers have been filed and are a part of the proceedings in this case.

BLAME TYPHOID VACCINE.

Outbreak in Bristol Laid at Door of Vaccination.

Bristol, Va., Aug. 4.—The impression has been gaining in the last few days that vaccine used to prevent typhoid fever in this city is at the bottom of a number of cases that have developed. Former Mayor Gammon used the vaccine on his children, and three of the four are now down with typhoid. Two developed the fever after they had receiver the third treatment, and a third developed the fever after receiving the second treatment.

"I cannot say positively that the vaccine is the cause of the fever cases in my family," said Dr. Gammon tonight, "but after talking with other physicians and observing the situation in my own family, I am strongly impressed that the fever is due to the vaccine."

It is known that other physicians take the same view as former Mayor Gammon, who is also a physician. At least one physician has recommended strongly against the use of the vaccine, expressing the view that it has not been sufficiently tested to determine whether or not it is a safe or effective remedy.

If the fever is due to the vaccine, it is likely to become epidemic here, as a number of families have used it.

Former Mayor Gammon said tonight that the rumor that 600 cases have developed in Bristol is absolutely without foundation. "There are," he said, "probably not more than 25 fever cases in Bristol at present.

Other physicians confirm the statement that the fever is not epidemic here.

RIGID INQUIRY OF MULHALL'S STORY

Both Sides of the Capitol to Investigate His "Startling Charges."

LESS LENIENCY TO BE SHOWN

Ex-Lobbyist Will be Asked to Explain How He Expected to Influence Legislation—Committee Has Usual Lively Session

Washington, August 4.—Investigation of the activities of Martin M. Mulhall, for the National Association of Manufacturers, will occupy the attention of committees on both sides of the capitol tomorrow for the first time since the "lobbyist" made his startling charges a month ago.

The House Investigating committee will begin its work with the examination of Louis Seibold, of hte New York World, who had much to do with the turning over to that newspaper of the Mulhall correspondence. When Mulhall is called on the House side there will be no wholesale identification of his letters by investigating Congressmen, but the witness will be questioned closely, first as to justification for bringing in the names of men who are members of the present House. He will be asked also to show just how he expected to influence legislation in the House, and what acquaintance he really had among its members.

Mulhall will be dealt with with much less leniency than he has been by the Senate committee. He probably will be called Wednesday and may be on the stand several weeks. Several times during his examination on the Senate side, the "lobbyist" hinted at explosions he might cause when he got to the House and it is generally agreed that he referred to stories of adventures in the night life of the capital.

The Senate committee will hear tomorrow Former Senator Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio, mentioned by Mulhall as one of the men he used to know well in Washington, and as one of those for whom he did campaign work for. The committee received more letters from Mulhall today which the lobbyist said proved some of the statements he made in his direct testimony. Senator Reed will examine these and may put Mulhall on the stand later to question him about them.

The committee had its usual lively time today. Senator Townsend started it by denying that he had held confidential conversations with Mulhall in his office when he was a member of the House. He declared such statements to be absolutely false. Mr. Townsend's denial was followed closely by a protest from Robert McCarter, attorney for the National Association of Manufacturers, against recent newspaper interviews with the three Democrats on the committee which he argued showed the case prejudged on the testimony of one witness.

Chairman Overman read a letter from Former Representative James S Watson, of Indiana, mentioned frequently by Mulhall as his friend and ally in work here, in which Watson declined to appear before the committee. Watson based his declination on the newspaper interviews and said he expected to appear in another court where the jury would not judge the case until the evidence was all in. Watson tonight wrote to Chairman Garrell requesting a hearing before the House committee. He will be heard at the conclusion of Mulhall's testimony.

TORPEDO BOATS.

New York Shipbuilding Co., Presents Lowest Bid for Construction.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The New York Shipbuilding Company, of Camden, N. J., was the lowest bidder for the construction of the torpedo boat destroyers for which proposals were opened today, at $825,000 each for two boats. None of six bidders offered to construct more than two boats each, so that as there are six to be built, there will be a chance for some of the high bidders.

The Bath Iron Works offered to construct two boats with certain modifications of the department's plans, at $825,000 each. The Fore River Shipbuilding Company, of Quincy, Mass., bid $861,000 for one boat. Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, bid $881,000 each for two; the Newport News Shipbuilding Company bid $902,500 each for two, and the Union Iron Works $906,000 for one. Indications are that two of the boats will go to the New York Shipbuilding Company, two to Bath, and one to Cramps and one to the Fore River.

MOVING THE CROPS.

Tillman Submits Letters From Farmers to Senate for Record.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, submitted to the Senate for publication in the Record today two letters he had received bearing on his effort to have liberal financial arrangements made for accommodating the South in moving crops.

One letter was from a farmer in Newberry, S. C., who declared the situation in the South so critical that it is not possible to sell farm produce for cash. Another was from President Lewis W. Parker, president of the Parker Cotton Mills Company, of Greenville, S. C., declaring that unless the government came to the relief of the Southern and Western banks, there would be "serious hesitation on the part of any buyers of agricultural commodities in purchasing."

BANKERS CALLED TO CONFER

Representative Financiers Invited to Confer With Treasury Officials Regarding Distribution of Funds for Crops

Washington, August 4.—Representative bankers of 59 large cities in the agricultural regions of the South, Middle West and Pacific coast, were invited by Secretary McAdoo today to come to Washington to confer with the Treasury Department regarding the distribution of the $50,000,000 of government funds about to be deposited in the National banks of those sections to facilitate the marketing and movement of the crops.

This unprecedented step, which will call to Washington bankers from the centers that will finance the handling of the great crops soon to be harvested, is designed to give the secretary first hand information advice as to specific and relative needs of each of the farming districts. It has been tentatively decided to place the deposits in the 59 cities to be represented at the conference. Invitations were sent by telegraph to the presidents of the clearing house associations in each of the cities asking them to send representatives or committees to Washington to discuss arrangements for depositing the big sum. The conference with the representatives from the Southern cities will be held at the Treasury Department Thursday, August 7th with those from the West Friday, August 8th, and with those from the Pacific coast on Thursday, August 14th.

These cities have been invited to be represented:

Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery, Alabama; Little Rock, Arkansas; Los Angeles, San Francisco, California; Denver, Colorado; Tampa, Jacksonville, Florida; Atlanta, Savannah, Georgia; Chicago, Illinois; Evansville, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Indiana; Des Moines, Sioux City, Iowa; Kansas City, Wichita, Kansas; Louisville, Kentucky; New Orleans, Louisiana; Baltimore, Maryland; Vicksburg, Meridian, Mississippi; St. Louis, Kansas City, Missouri; Minneapolis, St. Paul, Minnesota; Detroit, Michigan; Charlotte, Wilmington, Raleigh, North Carolina; Omaha, Nebraska; Oklahoma City, Muskogee, Oklahoma; Portland, Oregon; Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Ohio; Charleston, Columbia, Spartanburg, Greenville, South Carolina; Chattanooga, Knoxville, Memphis, Nashville, Tennessee; Dallas, Galveston, Houston, San Antonio, Texas; Richmond, Norfolk, Roanoke, Lynchburg, Virinia; Wheeling, West Virginia; Seattle, Spokane, Washington and Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Secretary McAdoo announced that it was not practicable to increase the number of cities and that he believed those selected were thoroughly representative of the agricultural sections.

Treasury officials declared that the entire $50,000,000 which has been offered will be deposited if the situation demands it. It was explained that care will be taken to prevent any undue inflation of the circulating volume of money and that the government would deposit only what was needed to assist in moving the crops, with the stipulation that it must be returned to the treasury as soon as that need shall have passed.

At the conference with the bankers Secretary McAdoo will discuss the amount needed and the dates to be named for the gradual return of the money to the government.

The Treasury Department expects to begin making the deposits before the close of August, and gradually to feed the money into the selection centers as the demand grows through the crop-moving period.

GEORGE HERALD TODD.

To Become Assistant to Attorney General of the United States.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The Senate tonight confirmed the appointment of George Herald Todd, of New York, to be assistant to the Attorney General of the United States. Another effort to bring about the confirmaion of the appointment of James Coffey, of South Dakota, as internal revenue collector for the division of North and South Dakota, resulted in a protracted filibuster which ended without action having been taken on the appointment. Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, was one of the leaders in the opposition to eliminate action on the Coffey nomination. It is understood that it was suggested in executive session that Mr. Coffey should resign the Democratic State chairmanship in South Dakota.

OUTLINES

Senate Democrats and Republicans discussed the woolen and metal schedules of the tariff bill, and engaged in a lively debate regarding the general business outlook.

Both sides of the Capitol will begin a rigid investigation of the "starting charges" preferred by the ex-lobbyist M. M. Mulhall.

James Conely, negro witness in the Phagan murder trial, testified that Mary Phagan was killed by the defendant, Leo Frank.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo invited representative bankers to confer at Washington with Treasury officials regarding the distribution of government funds to be used in facilitating the movement of crops.

President Wilson formally accepted the resignation of the American ambassador to Mexica, Henry Lane Wilson, and as his personal representative in that country has sent former Governor John Lind, of Minnesota.

Five members of the West Virginia legislature were sentenced to terms in prison for bribery in connection with the election of a United States Senator early in the year.

TAKES FIRST STEPS IN MEXICAN POLICY

President Wilson Formally Accepts Resignation of the Ambassador.

LIND GOES TO TROUBLE ZONE

No Explanation of Uncle Sam's Attitude Made Public—Wilson and Bryan Hold Frequent Conferences.

Washington, Aug. 4.—President Wilson today took the first steps in the policy through which he proposed to deal with the Mexican situation. He formally accepted the resignation of Ambassador Henry L. Wilson to take effect on October 14th and sent to Mexico City as his personal representative—but not accredited to the Huerta government—former Governor John Lind, of Minnesota, a life-long friend of Secretary Bryan. The understanding is that when a stable government is established in Mexico, Mr. Lind will be formally named as ambassador.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and Chairman Bacon, of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, discussed the situation with the President at the White House. But for the announcement of Mr. Lind's mission, no explanation of the policy to be pursued by the American government was forthcoming. The statement from Secretary Bryan read:

"Ex-Governor John Lind, of Minnesota, has been sent to Mexica as the personal representative of the President to act as adviser. The embassy in the present situation. When the President is ready to communicate with the Mexican authorities as to the restoration of peace he will make public his views."

Governor and Mrs. Lind departed for Mexico tonight by rail, to proceed via New Orleans or Galveston."

It became known that a further announcement would be made by President Wilson in a few days, possibly on the arrival of Mr. Lind in Mexico City.

Wilson an Interested Spectator.

It is said the President is observing with keen interest the efforts of leading Mexicans to bring about peace, and will offer no suggestions until these apparently prove futile. That Mr. Lind will be empowered to explain to all inquirers the unalterable opposition of the American government to the recognition of the Huerta administration is probable. Prominent Mexicans have taken it upon themselves to try to persuade General Huerta to retire in favor of another provisional executive acceptable to all factions.

Munitions of War Denied.

Meanwhile munitions of war from the United States will continue to be denied to the two warring forces, and unless it is apparent that internal efforts to bring about peace have failed the United States will not offer its services as a mediator. Mr. Lind undoubtedly will act in that capacity when the time comes.

Declarations from both Huerta and Carranza have been made in the press rejecting mediation proposals, but administration officials realize that both sides fear they may be showing weakness in the acceptance of such a proposal at this time and are not convinced that friendly efforts to mediate would prove ineffective. Officials here hope that the effort to put an end to bloodshed and destruction of property would appeal to public opinion in Mexico and unite the factions on a peace programme.

Little of an affirmative nature came from President Wilson or Secretary Bryan during the day to indicate what the future policy of the Washington government would be, though the acceptance of the resignation of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson settled finally that his recommendations for recognition of the Huerta government after a period of military co-operation in Northern Mexico on the part of the United States to restore peace had been rejected.

The ambassador's views and activities at Mexico City in the closing days of the Taft administration were officially described as at variance with those held by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and a reiteration came from high officials that the morality of the situation would not permit the recognition of provisional President Huerta on account of the circumstances surrounding the death of Madero and Suarez.

While officials of the administration here look with disfavor upon the processes of armed revolution to overthrow constituted governments in Latin America, there is a distinct feeling of sympathy manifest toward the liberal movement in Central America, of which Madero's administration was the beginning in Mexico. Arguments therefore that it was necessary to have in Mexica the "iron hand of Diaz", which might be expected in Huerta, failed to make an impression on government officials here who believe that the Latin-American governments cannot thrive on the extreme of military dictatorship.

These ideas are likely to be reflected in whatever pronouncements the President may make in the near future and form the keystone of the administration's policy toward the Latin Republics.

Mr. Lind, who has been in Washington for the last three days, has talked with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and obtained their views of the situation. Mr. Lind is a lawyer by profession and was a member of Congress from the 50th to the 52nd sessions, being a colleague of Mr. Bryan. He was a Republican while in Congress, but was elected Governor of Minnesota from 1899 to 1901 on the Democratic ticket, and was defeated for re-election and went to Congress again from 1903 to 1905 from the Fourth Minnesota district, as a Democrat. He is president of the board of regents of the University of Minnesota.

Ambassador Wilson, except for a formal statement after his resignation had been accepted, did not care to comment on the future policies of the administration.

Withdraw Missionaries From Mexico.

Anderson, S. C., Aug. 4.—It is reported here on what appears to be good authority, that Secretary Bryan has sent a telegram marked "confidential," to Dr. F. Y. Pressley, secretary of the board of missions of the Associated Reform Presbyterian Synod, suggesting that he order all missionaries of that church out of Mexico at once. It is said the message indicates that the State Department feels American missionaries in Mexico are in peril.

Wyatt Aiken, representative in Congress from the Third district of South Carolina, wired the following this afternoon to the Anderson Mail: "The U. S. consulate at San Luis Potosi, Mexico, has notified the foreign missionary heads of the different churches in the United States responsible for missionaries in that section, that they had better make provision to get the women and children out of Mexico as early as possible, as it is unsafe for them to remain there on account of the activity of several thousand armed rebels and guerillas. The State Department will be glad to transmit any messages to San Luis Potosi for parties interested. What the Secretary of State has wired to the heads of the A. R. P. church is not for publication."

An official of the A. R. P. church furnishes the following list of missionaries of that church now in Mexico:

Dr. H. E. Pressley and wife, Miss M. Y. Stevenson, Miss Gettys, Rev. J. H. Dale, Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Lavinia Neel, Dr. R. McMaster, Rev. W. W. Boyce and Mrs. Hosanna Hunter.

GROCERS AND JOBERS HELPED

Will Secure Very Satisfactory Concessions from Railroads in Matter of Rates—Worked Late Last Night on Report

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 4.—Until a late hour tonight typewriters were busy in the office of the Corporation Commission with the final copies of the report the commission presents to Governor Craig tomorrow, conveying the proposition of the railway companies in freight rate reductions to North Carolina points in settlement of the fight of shippers against discriminations in inter-State rates.

It is an interesting fact that the assertion is made by persons who are most capable of judging, and have managed to scan the tables of reductions proposed by the railroads, declare that the tables of reductions proposed by the railroads, declare that the grocers and jobbers most particularly have occasion to expect very satisfactory concessions, especially on all classes of goods and commodities from the West. Indeed, it is declared that the whole scope of the reductions from the West are practically all that could be expected.

Warden T. P. Sales, of the penitentiary, is back from Chester, Pa., where he went to bring back Charles Austin, who is wanted to finish out a 30 years' sentence for killing Charles Burch, in Louisburg, in 1904. The prisoner has 29 years, seven months and 15 days yet to serve in his 30-year sentence.

There are under the control of the penitentiary at this time 830 convicts, these being distributed on railroads and on the State farm, except that there are 110 convicts in the central prison here.

Postmaster W. W. Rollins, of the Asheville postoffice, who is president of the North Carolina Presidential Postmasters' Association, has designated Postmaster Willis G. The annual convention of this association will take place in Norfik in September in conjunction with the Virginia association, a joint convention of the two States having been agreed upon last week.

Mr. Alex. L. Blow, recently appointed clerk of the Federal Court for the Eastern district of North Carolina by Judge H. G. Mr. Blow will retain his home in Greenville, at least for the present, spending a few days each week here as the work here may require. He says it will be some time yet before he makes any announcements of appointments of deputy clerks for the courts at the other points in the district which include, Washington, Newbern, Wilmington and Elizabeth City.

SENATORS FENCE OVER TARIFF BILL

General Business Outlook is Subject of a Lively Debate.

THE REDUCTIONS DISCUSSED

Woolen Schedule Considered at Some Length—Much Progress Made on Metal Schedule—Industrial Aspects Reviewed

Washington, August 4.—Democrats and Republicans of the Senate fenced today over prosperity and the business outlook, discussed the woolen schedule of the tariff bill at length and made some progress on the metal schedule.

Colloquies over the probable effect of the tariff arose when Senator Stone of Missouri, read into the record quotations from manufacturers and merchants stating that the industrial outlook was very favorable despite the proposed tariff reductions. Senator Gallinger expressed assurance that present prosperity was due to Republican policies, not to coming Democratic laws and also that history would repeat itself and depressing times come.

Senator Williams, addressing the Republicans, asked why, if they were so certain of the result, they didn't cease demurring and let the bill go to the country for a test.

"We shall continue to demur," replied Senator Gallinger, "until we have made a record that perhaps may aid the people in understanding the situation when the effect of this bill is felt.

Senator Myers, of Montana, in a lengthy analysis of the wool schedule, declared that the people of his part of the West favored free raw wool, and that a century of protection had failed utterly to aid the wool industry of this country. His speech led to a general discussion of shoddy and wool, participated in by Senators Warren and Smoot, for the Republicans, and Senators Myers, Walsh and Martine, for the Democrats.

When the metal schedule was taken up with Senator Stone in charge, Senator Cummins, of Iowa, submitted a substitute which transferred to the dutiable list many free-listed articles in the Underwood-Simmons bill, notably pig iron and blast furnace products.

Senator Oliver, of Pennsylvania, opened discussion of the metal schedule, questioning the wisdom of the Senate Finance committee in putting pig iron on the free list. The Senator said he did not have much hope of amending the bill, because the Democrats seemed to have determined to pass it as it stands, although small manufacturers were dependent upon a protective tariff to pig iron. In Pennsylvania, he added, there were 170 blast furnaces, only 47 of which was controlled by the United States Steel Corporation.

A new competitor of the United States in the steel trade more to be feared than all others, the Senator said, was China, which was already supplying much of the pig iron now used on the Pacific coast.

Senator Cummins said there should be reasonable protection for American producers of pig iron and advocated a duty of about $1 a ton. He thought the House rate of eight per cent a little too high.

Senator Smith, of Michigan, deprecated putting iron on the free list just at a time when the ore mines of Cuba were being opened up, thus depriving the government of revenue which he said would naturally and easily flow into the coffers of the treasury.

Senator Thomas, of the Finance committee majority, declared that pig iron produced in this country last year was valued at $185,000,000 and that the ports were negligible, less than 100,000 tons. As to the Chinese pig iron, Senator Thomas said there was no present prospect of serious competition.

LOWER RATES ON COAL

Inter-State Commerce Commission Grants Application Made

Washington, D. C., August 4.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission has granted the application of several railroads entering North Carolina to establish rates for long hauls lower than those now in effect. Among the petitions granted were these: The Southern Railway may establish a first-class rate of 84 cents a hundred pounds from Cincinnati, Louisville group to Ruffin and Reidsville, rates from affiliated points to be made on the usual relative basis. The Virginia & Southwestern Railway may establish rates on coal from Big Stone Gap, Inman, Norton, Roaring Fork, Tom's Creek and Stonega, Virginia, and continguous Virginia and Southwestern Railway mines to points in North Carolina without observing the long and short haul clause so as to allow the mines located at those points to better compete with those at Coal Creek, Tenn., which were recently granted a lower rate.

Five thousand dealers, from cities throughout the entire South, are expected to attend the convention.

Score Five to Three in Featureless Game Yesterday—Ty Cobb Has Costly Muff for Tigers—Naps Lose

Opening a series of four games on the home grounds with Callahan's White Sox, the Nationals, in a featureless exhibition yesterday lost by a score of five to three. Joe Engel, the former Mount St. Mary's lad, opened the game for the Senators, giving up three runs in the first inning while the opposing slabman was Russell, the sensational left-hander of the White Sox. While Chicago garmered but four hits to the Senator's ten, the break was the other way, sending homeward a bunch of sad-faced Washingtonians.

The Yankees won handily from Detroit yesterday by the score of 6 to 4, after throwing away many chances to score by poor base running, the win having been clinched in the seventh inning when the "Terrible Ty" made a muff that let in four of five runs chalked up in that inning.

The leaders met over in Philadelphia for the beginning of a series that resulted in the breaking of the lucky streak of the Naps, the Athletics playing rings all around their opponents and winning by a score of 7 to 1. This served to diminish considerably the Nap stock, having in four playing days the past week clinched three double-headers and a single game without meeting defeat. Through the seven game string of victories, Cleveland made a 47-point leap toward the pennant.

The Boston-St. Louis game was rained out, making necessary a double-header for today.

HERBERT-JONES NUPTIALS.

Charming Wedding Solemnized at Kenansville Baptist Church.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kenansville, N. C., Aug. 5.—Very beautiful in its charming simplicity was the wedding of Miss Myrtle G. Jones, of Kenansville, and Mr. W. C. Herbert, of Newberry, S. C., Thursday afternoon, July 24th at 7:30 o'clock, at the Baptist church.

Rev. Mr. Oliver, of Mount Olive, performed the ceremony in the beautifully decorated church, the color scheme of the decorations being white and green, candles adding a soft glow to the scene. Just before the ceremony Miss Fannie Gray Farrier sang the last stanza of "Love's Old Sweet Song," followed by "Surrender," with Miss Susie Southerland at the organ. The bridal party entered to Lohengrin's Wedding March. The ushers were Messrs. Carr and Heath, who came first, followed by Misses Bess Herbert, of Newberry, and Lila Grier, of Morrisville, S. C.; Messrs. Fitz Hugh Wallace and Leroy Jones, of Kenansville; Misses Lillie Carter, of Wallace, and Bettie Southerland, of Kenansville; Messrs. W. P. Walker, of Timmonsville, S. C., and William Jones, of Kenansville. Following these came the dame of honor, Mrs. William Buck, of Rowland, N. C., and then came the maid of honor, Miss Celeste Hughson, of Sumter, S. C.

Immediately preceding the bride came the ring bearer, little Margaret Jones. The bride entered upon the arm of her father, Mr. Thad Jones. She was daintily gowned in white and carried bride roses. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. W. W. Herbert. After the impressive ceremony, the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

A reception was held at the spacious home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert left early in the evening for the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. Herbert is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Jones. The Timmonsville High School, S. C., has been fortunate in having her for two years in charge of the music department. Mr. Herbert has been in the teaching profession for several years and has superintended the Timmonsville school with marked success for the past three years.

Among the pre-nuptial events was a miscellaneous shower for the bride by Misses Susie and Bettie Southerland. The home of Mrs. Jno. A. Gavin, Sr., was beautifully decorated in yellow dalsies and myrtle. Vocal and instrumental solos were enjoyed and an appropriate reading from "Hiawatha." The bride-to-be, prettily gowned in yellow crepe de chine, was then led to a throne whose decorations carried out the color scheme. During the reading of the "Airship Honeymoon," she was mysteriously showered with numerous gifts at the waving of her wand. Delightful refreshments were served.

I. W. W. IN CALIFORNIA

Soldiers and Strikers Clash in the Hop Fields

Sacramento, Cal., August 4.—Five companies of the California National Guard today are policing the hop fields of Wheatland, in Yuba county, where four met death and eight were badly wounded yesterday, in a clash between striking hop pickers and a sheriff's posse.

The strike led by Industrial Workers of the World organizers, still are in an ugly mood, but Adjutant General E. A. Forbes expressed the belief that if he could prevent a meeting of the strikers and some of the bands of armed citizens who last night were intent upon vengeance there was not likely to be further demonstration.

The news of the death of District Attorney E. T. Manwell and Deputy Sheriff E. Reardon and the wounding of Sheriff George Voss and others of his posse spread rapidly through the farming country last night and volunteer posses hurried from every community to take a hand.

The militia did not reach the scene until nearly daybreak and in the meantime several hundred armed civilians had poured in from every direction.

VENEZUELAN HOSTILITIES

Army Being Mobilized at Maracay for Attack on Capital

Caracas, August 4.—An army of veterans and some thousands of recruits is being mobilized at the town of Maracay, 50 miles southwest of the Venezuelan capital. These forces are expected to attack Coro in the State of Falcan and drive out Cipriano Castro. They will proceed there in two divisions by land and sea.

Another army is being assembled at Barquisimete, capital of the State of Lara, 165 miles southwest of Caracas. This force will endeavor to cut off Castro's escape into the interior.

Although business here has come to a standstill and stock values have gone down, the people express confidence that the government will be able to suppress the rebellion.

Brunswick, Ga., August 4.—Henry F. Tennant sailed for Venezuela today aboard the United States cruiser Des Moines to take charge of the American legation at Caracas under instructions from the State Department. The Des Moines will stop at Guantanamo en route to LaGuaria, her destination, and will remain in Venezuelan waters to protect American interests.

Enabled Giants to Continue Their Runaway in National Circuit—Reds Hammered Ball Hard—Dodgers Beat Cubs

After three games in the National League circuit Sunday in which the Cubs won from the Dodgers 12 to 5, the Reds from the Braves 8 to 5, and the Phillies from the Cardinals 5 to 3, the Giants continued their runaway for the pennant yesterday through Demaree's great pitching, winning from the Pirates two to one, while the Reds hammered the ball hard and took a one-sided affair from Boston 13 to 4. Brooklyn defeated Chicago 7 to 1 and the Phillies added to their pennant aspirations by defeating St. Louis 6 to 3.

WITH THE MOVIES

Under bright circumstances the popular Bijou made a glorious inauguration of its new week yesterday. The bill was a hummer, being presented in the Bijou's usual faultless manner, and large audiences were on hand to enjoy it. Besides the great show the audiences also enjoyed the great comfort of the spot, and this is one of its swellest features. The air is always cool and the ventilation is perfect, thus insuring health and assuring solid comfort. Today's bill is headed by a film that will grasp the heart with iron hand, but yet will, in every thrilling scene, cause some beautiful thought and will preach a wholesome lesson. It is the story of a midnight burglary on Christmas Eve and it is entitled "In God We Trust." "Love" is another strong dramatic, being Pathe's tale of the love of an old man and a young soldier. Fun will also play a tremendous part in today's offering and the films of this type will be led by "A Ten Acre Gold Brick", which is a laughable story of how land sharks try to swindle a countryman, and are bamboozled themselves. Another great laugh photoplay on today is "Lucky Cohen," telling of the adventures of a peddler in the rural district.

The Grand's Offering.

Four big pictures will feature the Grand's swell bill today, and there will be plenty of new music and the usual solid comfort of this favorite amusement spot. Leading the great photoplay bill will be a film of great power, "The Trail of Cards," depicting, in vivid and thrilling way, the chase a revenue officer has after a band of smugglers. Melie's "Honor Thy Mother" is another thrilling dramatic for while the Vitagraph's "The Wrong Pair", is a roaring farce comedy. It tells of a chase an irascible old man has after his daughter, who has eloped. A great educational, or travel film is also a feature today in "The Grand Canyon." It is not only instructive, but highly entertaining. The scenery is beautiful and will be appreciated by all.

CONVICTED FOR BOOKMAKING.

New York Woman May Serve Sentence for the Offense.

New York, Aug. 4.—Margaret Wright, 33 years old, today was convicted for "making a book" on horse races. She was placed under probation with a warning from the court that a repetition of the offense would result in a penitentiary sentence. This is said to be the first instance of a woman being convicted for book-making in New York City.

In pleading for leniency, Miss Wright, who said she was a waitress, tearfully declared that she herself was a victim of bookmakers. Nearly all of her wages for the past, she said, had been lost in betting on the races.

DEPUTY'S FUNERAL HELD

Officers Searching for Negro Who Shot and Killed Officer Robert L. Bain at Greensboro—Jim McClure Murderer.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 4.—The funeral of Robert L. Bain, the deputy sheriff who was shot and almost instantly killed by the negro Jim McLeod, Saturday afternoon, was held this afternoon at the home of the deceased at Pomona. He was a machinist in the Pomona mills and had taken up the work of a special officer in order to make a little extra money. A wife and a small child survive. The service was conducted by Rev. R. M. Andrews, of the Methodist Protestant church. Interment was in Greene Hill cemetery. He was a member of the Junior Order and Daughters of Liberty, which were in charge of the service. The Pomona mills were closed at 3 o'clock for the funeral.

The coroner's inquest over the body was held in the undertaking establishment Saturday evening. This was brief and the conclusion was that the deceased came to his death from gun shot wounds inflicted by Jim McLeod, alias Jim McClure, negro.

Most of Saturday night and Sunday were spent by the county and city officers in searching the country about Pomona for the negro. He was about the place all of the night and day, but successfully eluded the officers. He was seen Saturday night, Sunday morning and again Sunday night. Last evening he came to his boarding place, near the scene of the crime, got his clothes and departed. All who saw the negro after the shooting told the officers that the negro had a pistol wound on his head. This probably came from the pistol of Deputy Bain.

It is supposed that the real cause of the enmity of McLeod towards the officer was the latter's energetic efforts towards breaking up gambling among the negroes of that section. The immediate excuse for the shooting was the officer's attempt to arrest the negro for an assault upon a white boy about an hour before the shooting.

The annual report of the city police has been filed with the commissioners. The total number of warrants issued for the year ending May 1st, was 1,175, a decrease of 287 from the year before. The warrants for drunkenness were 134. This number was the same as the year before. There were 103 retailing cases. Number of cases on account of automobiles was 53. Cases for retailing, selling cocaine, gambling and vagrancy decreased as compared with the previous year.

Immigration Inspector Schumaker, of Norfolk, Va., who came here to investigate the case of Jessef Bloch, the Russian boy who was found wandering hopelessly and crying about the streets a few days ago, has ordered that the young man be deported. The boy was a very ignorant and helpless sort of boy. He was anxious to remain here with a cousin, who is a merchant, but he comes in that class that may become a public charge and he must go back to the Czar's kingdom.

NEGROES SOUGHT REVENGE

Fired on Houses of Men Who Had Appeared Against Them in Court

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., August 5.—Four negroes, Ed Jones, Ivey Jones, Henry Wiggins and Dave Sutton, are held under bond for the next term of criminal court for the shooting up of three houses in Contentnea Neck township, a few miles from here.

No one was hurt in the onslaught by the negroes, which occurred between 2 A. M. and daybreak on Sunday. J. R. Fields, a prominent white farmer, and John Mumford and R. L. Holland, colored, wer ethe subjects of the attack. The trio had appeared in Federal Court early in May against a brother of one of the gunmen, who was tried for selling whiskey at a rural church on a Sabbath while services were in progress. Under the influence of whiskey the negroes, led by Ed Jones, armed themselves with revolvers and shotguns and sought vengeance. They had waited nearly three months before seeking revenge, and the men men who had earned their enmity had long since dismissed all thought of danger from the blacks, who are known to be reckless characters. A fusillade was poured into the dwelling of Planter Fields, and the family were afraid to venutre forth to investigate. The negroes Mumford and Black, living some distance apart, were badly frightened, although they and their families escaped injury. In the front door of Mumford's home a hole large enough to run one's fist through was made by heavy shot, and windows in the homes of both were shot out. All three houses were riddled with revolver balls. A heavy rain had fallen shortly before, and at daylight, when the attack had ceased, neighbors tracked the desperadoes to their homes in another township, several miles distant. They were not expecting that suspicion would be directed to them and had not counted upon the weather as an aid to justice, so that when taken unawares they readily surrendered.

Rev. Jno. H. Griffitm, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church here, and Mrs. Griffith returned yesterday from Biltmore, where Mr. Griffith has been in charge of All Souls' church for several weeks. G. W. Vanderbilt, the owner of Biltmore village, was a constant attendant at All Souls' during Mr. Griffith's stay. Mr. Vanderbilt is senior warden of the church.

THREE YEARS FOR DOCKERY

Negro Mail Clerk Found Guilty of Killing at Monroe

Monroe, N. C., August 4.—W. L. Dockery, negro mail clerk on the Seaboard after being found guilty of manslaughter here inte Saturday night, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Adams. He killed Frank Perry, a hack driver, June 20th, last, 11 shots being fired between the two men. Public sentiment was with Dockery, letters written by the deceased negro to the wife of the defendant being mitigating circumstances.

VISITORS AT FAYETTEVILLE.

See Much Evidence of Growth in North Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 4.—Col. Joseph E. Willard, minister to Spain, and Murray M. McGuire, a Richmond attorney, are in the city on business, stopping at the LaFayette. The Richmond man would not say anything for publication about the business which brought them here, but Col. Willard talked interestingly of affairs in general and the evident prosperity of Fayetteville and the growth of North Carolina in particular. In riding over the city, he said, he was impressed with the appearance of prosperity on every hand. "In fact," said the Spanish minister, "the whole State of North Carolina has undergone a wonderful growth in the past six or seven years."

Col. Willard expects to leave the country about September 1st for his Spanish post, which is shortly to be made an embassy by Congress.

Following the departure last night of Major E. J. Hale, minister to Costa Rica, and for many years editor and owner of the Fayetteville Observer, the Observer this afternoon announced the appointment of E. J. Hale, Jr., editor of the paper, and Frederick T. Hale, formerly of California, associate editor and manager.

Minister Hale will be joined in Washington by his wife, who will leave here Wednesday evening. They will sail from New York on the 9th and land at Port Limon on the 21st, after touching at Kingston and Colon.

Mayor John Underwood, as head of the chartered city court, today made formal demand on Recorder John A. Gates for all penalties imposed on city prisoners by the recorder's court since its establishment on June 1st. Mayor Underwood, whose action is taken as a consequence of Attorney General Bickett's decision that only penalties for penal and military crimes can be turned into the county school fund, says that he does not wish to take any legal steps to secure these penalties if it can be avoided.

Oh, you new custom house! When?

Russia seems to be taking advantage of the "open door in China."

Castro wouldn't stay out of it when he had a good excuse.

Says a writer: "Modern dress seems to aim at showing the figure." It also keeps figures from lying.

There is a vast improvement in Wilmington's skyline, as it is seen from steamers entering the harbor.

They are now about to prove that the trouble with us is the cost of high living and not the high cost of living.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo seems to know how to blul the market on the government's two per cent bonds.

The fact that the Republicans in Congress are still fighting the revised tariff bill shows that it is all right so far.

A New York doctor insists that "we drink too much ice water." Well, what else is there to drink as a substitute?

The dispatches state that a "hotel keeper was robbed in his office." If it was a Summer resort hotel, the robber's haul was a rich one.

Some one has recalled the fact that "there has never been a President Smith or Brown or Jones." Probably it is because they generally get everything else they want.

That $50,000,000 from the United States treasury will help out a little bit, anyhow. At a fair price the South's cotton crop alone will sell for twenty times that vast sum.

In debate a few days ago Senator Sheppard, of Texas, ejaculated: "Clothe women with the ballot." In addition to that they can be depended on to put on the usual amount of airs.

It is announced from Washington that the "currency bill suits Wilson." When the people read it over, they will recognize the fact that Wilson looked it over through their spectacles.

A Wall Streeter who disliked Senator Tillman's references to the bankers of Gotham, attempted to break it off in the Senator by writing him an insolent letter. The Senator's reply is the latest evidence that he is still alive and kicking. He handed the letter writer in a few hot ones right off a red hot stove. The man who wrote the Senator belongs in the class with those who don't know when it is loaded.

The Weather Bureau promises cooler weather. Of course, we are glad to hear it, but the weather we have been having is the kind to make the 15,000,000-bale crop of cotton that the Department of Agriculture has predicted. Mr. M. W. Teachey, a Wilmington traveling man, says he never saw such crops of cotton and corn as are to be seen everywhere in North and South Carolina. The corn crop, he states, is marvelous.

FOUR MORE WATER TERMINALS FOR WILMINGTON.

Four water terminals for Wilmington during the next twelve months is doing pretty well. The preliminary expenditures for these very necessary commercial utilities probably will foot up a million dollars, with a prospective and most likely expenditure of several million dollars as the commercial possibilities of the port expand by reason of the operaton of the Panama Canal.

Within the past few weeks the news columns of The Star have contained announcements, one following the other, that these four terminal propositions have been launched under strong auspices. First came the pretentious and attractive factories and commercial terminal enterprise of the Germania Manufacturing Company. That company will begin with the enlargement of an already established manufacturing plant, and will work up its plans for the construction of piers and docks on a water front of 800 feet, while 18 acres of adjoining property will be open to a factories scheme contemplating a great diversity of industrial establishments.

With a community power plant or transmitted electric power, one's mind must open up to the fine opportunity the Germania terminal will afford for manufacturing for export and the domestic trade as well. That is one enterprise which every force in Wilmington should get behind and which should receive universal encouragement on the part of everyone who wants to see Wilmington join the few American cities that have ambitious undertakings for combining water and rail transportation for getting factories and commerce. Wilmington and the entire State of North Carolina ought to hope for the early realization of the Germania Manufacturing Company's proposition. It is one that has scope to it, and we know of no opportunity that should be more attractive for capital at home and abroad.

Next to mention of the Germania project came announcement of the plans of Mr. W. B. Cooper and associates to construct warehouses and water terminals on the west side of Northeast river, oposite Hilton Park. This enterprise will have facilities for handing both export and import business. On top of the Cooper terminal project came the announcement that Mr. C. C. Covington, the extensive and enterprising molasses importer, will construct terminals on the Cape Fear water front in the southern part of the city. This will be an import terminal and it will mean much for the port and the enterprising Covington interests.

Coming on the heels of these three important terminal propositions was the definite announcement that the Clyde Steamship Company had purchased the Northrop Mill water front and will construct steamship terminals and warehouses for water freights and passenger traffic. Locally, The Star already has called attention to some of the possibilities of the projected Clyde Line terminals, because of that line's close alliance with the Atlantic, Gulf & West India lines that are among the most enterprising of American water carriers. These lines have large commercial traffic on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and with Cuba and the West Indies and which doubtless will expand their operations when the Panama Canal opens up new maritime possibilities. Wilmington needs water terminals so she can be made a port of call by the steamships to engage in South American, Oriental and Pacific commerce, and with the complete development of all the terminals now scheduled, it only requires a forward look to conjure up the meaning they have for the business, commercial and manufacturing interests of Wilmington.

Will you please sit up and take notice that there is something doing in Wilmington and that there will be plenty more of it in the port that is just a step inside the ocean pathway followed by Atlantic, Gulf and inter-ocean water carriers. This is the port that's almost in whistling distance of the world's ships as they plow the main, North and South, hither and thither in trans-Atlantic traffic. Ships bearing two-thirds of the South's billion-dollar cotton crop, bound from Gulf and Atlantic ports for Europe, pass along just off the Cape Fear ocean gateway. More than $500,000,000 of cotton exports are borne on the ocean pathway that lies close into Wilmington and Southport.

The Star has for a long time hammered persistently upon the importance and necessity of water and rail terminals for building up the commerce of Wilmington, or rather, the commerce of North Carolina. Wilmington's growing commerce is forcing these four terminals to be constructed, and each and every one of those terminals means more increase in the commerce of the port. One development will bring about another, and thus it is with ports and cities that are on the growing list like Wilmington.

Yes, but what are the new obligations placed on Wilmington and North Carolina by this increase of harbor facilities for Wilmngton? They call for 35 feet of water on the bar and the constructon of a breakwater that will bring about that result for this ocean gateway. They call for a 30-foot channel to Wilmington, just as fast as it can be secured. Those four terminals and Wilmington's other busy railroad, private and manufacturing terminals call for deeper water—a deeper bar, a deeper channel. Wilmington's large commerce and the $20,000,000 manufacturing interests here cry out for deep water. The opportunities present and the possibilities of the future ought to make the government hear that call.

The freight rate situation in North Carolina calls for a deeper ocean gateway. If we were asked for a solution of the rate question in North Carolina and about the means of making Wilmington a greater port and increasing the prosperity of her railroads and developing the commercial, manufacturing and agricultural resources of the resourceful State of North Carolina, we would hand it to you like this: Deep water on the Cape Fear bar, a 30-foot channel and ample water and warehouse terminals. That will bring the ships and attract traffic, and ocean transportation will settle North Carolina's rate problem quicker and more effectually than will commissions and legislation.

Wilmington ought to see what its responsibilites are. It ought to launch a deep water movement so all of North Carolna can co-operate. If Wilmington doesn't do it, North Carolina ought to take the initiative and ask for the co-operation of Wilmington.

USING THE TREASURY RIGHT

Some New York financiers seem to be very much perturbed because the Wilson administration determined to send $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 to the South to relieve the tightness of the money markets pending movement of the cotton crop. It seems that there was considerable uneasiness in Southern banking circles. It was found that owing to conditions in New York the banks there could not be relied upon to meet the crop demands here, so Secretary McAdoo acted promptly in allaying the fear that prevailed South in the face of the crop movement.

The Democratic Treasury Department was doing only what Republican administrations have done for New York in tmes of stringency or panic. New York, therefore, is the last place in the world that ought to object to the treasurys coming to the rescue of any other part of the country. We can't see why it is not entirely proper for the treasury to hold itself in readiness to help out in New York or in the South when the occasion demands it. There is no need of getting up any anti-New York feeling about it, but certainly the nation's great financial center ought not to object to timely aid during the crop movements in the South and West.

Anyhow, the money soon flows to New York as naturally as a river flows to the ocean. We take it as a healthy sign that the treasury is so managed as to relieve any portion of the country from the financial dominance of any other section, and especially when the money centers themselves are more or less powerless to meet emergencies.

During the series of panics in this country, millions of treasury money has been sent to New York banks to save the day. There are indications in this ney treasury policy that point towards means for preventing panics, whether they are real or artificial.

MORE THAN $500 PER ACRE IN DEWBERRIES.

Sheriff C. S. Powell, of Johnston county, is not content to let Moore and Lee counties walk off with the honors in the production of dewberries. He writes the Smithfield Herald that during this season his gross receipts for an acre in dewberries were $910.57. His total expenses, including cultivation, picking, crating and marketing, were $363.39, leaving him a net profit of $547.18 on the acre.

The sheriff's farm is in the great old county of Johnston, one of the best in the State. His acre yielded 287 crates of berries which sold for $847.12. In addition to that he sold 8,780 plants in March for $63.45. His bill for express charges was $132.12. His other expenses were for crating and picking, and he paid commission merchants $58.25 in commissions. When a merchant in New York or Philadelphia can make $58.25 on an acre of North Carolina land for his share, it shows that North Carolina land is as asset of fine value to him as well as to the producer.

The experience of Sheriff Powell again demonstrates the advantage of farming and fruit growing in a country that is so close to the great markets of America. He is on the Atlantic Coast Line which operates refrigerated trains to the big markets, and if we were to account for his success we would have to attribute it to the nearness of this great producing region to millions of consumers and to the excellent transportation facilities that enable him to reach the markets with his products.

CURRENT COMMENT.

One district attorney could do all the work in the Federal courts in this State and then have time for play, but that is not the government's way of doing business.—Durham Herald.

Buffalo Bill's show has been placed in the hands of receivers. His Indians and cowboys will very likely appear next as actors in moving picture dramas and his collection of other rough riders will probably scatter to the four corners of the world. His old stake coach should receive an honored place in a museum. For some reason the last season wasn't a good one for the "Wild West." Is it possible that the moving picture houses are to blame? Are the movie Indians and cowboys so much like those in Buffalo Bill's show that children, young and grown up, prefer the movie variety at 5 and 10 cents admission to the show variety at 25 and 50? Has the movie made red men and bad men and the wild and woolly West, as it used to be, so commonplace that 10 cents is the maximum limit anybody cares to pay to see the old West portrayed?—Savannah News.

The artcle from the Greensboro Record in regard to the uprising, present and prospective, of candidates for Governor, shows the writer to be a well-posted man. So far, six names have been "mentioned," and of the six, one—Col. McLean, of Lumberton—is there to stick. The nomination for the coming term is not under promise, as was the case last year, and it is an open field. The campaign gives indication of an early opening and vigorous prosecution, and the nomination is going to be won on merit. Under the arrangement customary in this State, the nomination will go to an Eastern man. If the fact is borne in mind that there will be State issues upon which the Republican party will have ground to put up a fight, and that the Republicans will have a candidate in the field, the East will offer only its best man, and then the West will set about helping in his election.—Charlotte Observer.

A PLEA FOR CHICKENS.

To the Editor of The Star:

I would like to congratulate you, F. H. Willard and The Morning Star for publishing "A Plea for the Chicken", which certainly goes straight to the point and I sincerely trust that you will, in future, keep hammering away with editorials, current comments, etc., until you force the Council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the placing of chickens in the broiling sun and otherwise regulating the handling of same by the dealers, and at the same time I would like very much to see you take up the question of furnishing drinking fountains or other suitable places for the poor dogs to get a drink these hot days. There is not a man in this city that does not want a cool drink of water these hot days and if he does not care to wait until he gets home to get it, he stops in at some friend's store and asks for a drink, but the poor dog has to wait until he gets home for his drink and very often his owner has so much to think of, he neglects to give him a drink.

Hoping that you will keep hammering at these two things until they are an accomplished fact, I am,

Yours truly,
J. EDWIN BUNTING.

JUSTICE CAN'T COME.

Unforeseen Business Matter Prevents Southport Speech Tonight.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Aug. 4.—Word was received by the local committee last night from Hon. E. J. Justice, who was to make an address to the Brunswick county Just Freight Rate Association and the Southport Commercial Association and invited guests, on Tuesday night, the 5th, that owing to an unforeseen business matter, he would be unable to come.

This was a great disappointment, locally, as preparations were made to give both Mr. Justice and those invited a most pleasant time, and the address was looked forward to with more than the unsual interest, as the subject was concerning freight rates of live interest to the people of North Carolina. The committee has declared the event off. As to a later address, nothing has been determined.

Last Saturday a party of four, including a boatman, were towed in their rowboat to the dock at Federal Point, (Fort Fisher) and there Miss Lollie Bussells and Messrs. Mark Ferguson and Bonner Bussells, all of Southport, "took to the water" for a trial swim to this city, down the Cape Fear river. The rowboat followed the swimmers in case of any assistance being demanded, but none was needed, the swimmers going the entire distance of about five miles in one hour and 20 minutes, and finishing in good condition. Only in meeting the cross current in one place was any difficulty experienced. Your correspondent thinks this is a record swim for this locality especially, for a party of three, and for a lady.

TORTURED BY UGLY ITCHING ERUPTION

Doctor Recommended Resinol. Half of a 50c Jar Cured It.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5, 1912.—"My little daughter was taken with a very small spot on the back of her hand. It grew larger and caused her more trouble. When she would scratch it, it would bleed and get very ugly looking, so I doctored it myself for about a year, and at last it broke out on both knees, and when she would go to bed she would scratch, and was so tortured and suffered so from the itching, that I took her to our doctor, who recommended Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment.

"I sent for samples and after the first application the itching and inflammation was improved, and I kept it up night and morning, and by the time the sample was gone she complained very little, so I got a fifty-cent jar, and before that was half gone the trouble had entirely disappeared." (Signed) Mrs. Maude Schmechel, 2737 Presbury Street.

Resinol is speedily effective for itching, burning eruptions, pimples, dandruff, burns, old sores and piles. Sold by all druggists. For free samples write to Dept. 15-M, Resinol Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md.

WANTED ON SEVERAL CHARGES

Andrew Jones, a White Man of Duplin County, Arrested Here Early Yesterday Morning—He Escaped Once

Andrew Jones, a white man, apparently about 25 years old, who is wanted in Duplin county for retailing, forging checks and larceny, was arrested at the union station in this city at 1 o'clock yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Kelly and Reynolds, who were put on his trail shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday evening. He was lodged in jail to await the arrival last night of Deputy Sheriff J. B. Fussell, of Rose Hill, at whose instance the man was arrested.

This is the second time Jones has been in custody within a week. He was arrested at Burgaw last Friday and turned over to Deputy Sheriff Fussell, who went there for him. Although handcuffed and tied, Jones managed to make his escape from the officer. He broke the handcuffs off by striking them across some hard material and set out for Wilmington walking all the way.

Jones has a brother-in-law by the name of Wallace, who lives at Delgado. Wallace was in Rose Hill Sunday and left there on the afternoon train for Wilmington, bringing with him Jones' suit case. Deputy Sheriff Fussell saw Wallace at Rose Hill and learned that the suit case he carried belonged to Jones and that he intended to bring it to him at Wilmington. All this information, together with a capias, was enclosed in a special delivery letter to Sheriff Cowan. The letter was delivered to Deputy Sheriff Kelly at 7 o'clock and he and Deputy Sheriff Reynolds immediately went out to Delgado. Inquiries failed to develop the information desired as to the whereabouts of Jones.

They arranged with a person at the barber shop at Delgado to engage Wallace in conversation and gradually lead up to an inquiry about Jones, his health, whereabouts, etc. The officers hid themselves in the room and overheard the conversation. They heard enough to satisfy them that Wallace had some knowledge of the whereabouts of Jones. At first Wallace disclaimed any knowledge either of the suit case or Jones, but when Deputy Sheriff Kelly repeated the conversation overheard by the officers and was told that he would be locked up for harboring a man charged with crime, Wallace told the officers that the suit case was at the Atlantic Coast Line Cafe on Front street, though he did not know where Jones was. The officers came to the city and went to the cafe, where they found the suit case. They hid near the cafe and soon after midnight Jones passed along the street going in the direction of the union station. The officers followed him. When first accosted Jones told the officers that his name was Johnson. However, when he was told by Officer Reynolds that he knew him he admitted that his name was Jones.

Based on the capias, Justice Harriss issued a warrant, upon information and belief, charging Jones with retailing and it was this paper that he was arrested on. It is understood from the letter of Deputy Sheriff Fussell that Jones is also wanted for forgery and larceny.

Deputy Sheriff Fussell was evidently uneasy lest Jones should get away from the Wilmington officers. In his telegram to Sheriff Cowan yesterday morning, after stating that he would arrive on the evening train, he added: "Keep safe."

J. H. DOWSING ARRESTED

Member of Gang That Swindled Wilmington Men of $25,000 Captured at Hebron, Md.—Local Men Notified.

K. C. Sidbury, Esq., and Dr. J. W. Powell, who were swindled of $25,000 by wire-tappers in New York City last years, were notified yesterday of the arrest at Hebran, Md., Saturday of J. H. Dowsing, who spent last Summer in Wilmington as steering agent for the Gondorf wire tapping gang. Dowsing has been taken to New York City and the notice to Messrs. Sidbury and Powell came from Deputy Commissioner Dougherty of that place.

Messrs. Sidbury and Powell may go to New York to identify the man arrested, but it is unlikely, as it is thought that a photograph of the man under arrest will answer the same purpose. New York and Washington papers of Sunday contained long accounts of the arrest of Dowsing and these were read in Wilmington with much interest Sunday and yesterday. Dowsing has been traced all over the country since last November, and has repeatedly slipped through the fingers of the police. The capture was effected by Detective Richard McKenna, of the New York police department.

Dowsing, who is 55 years old, was born in Columbus, Me., and lived there until 26 years ago. In his home town he was thought to be dead. Three weeks ago Commissioner Dougherty heard that he was in Texarkana, running a gambling house. When detectives reached that place he had disappeared, but they traced him to Maryland.

Salisbury, Md., Aug. 4.—J. H. Dowsing, who was arrested near here Saturday, charged with being a member of a gang of wire tappers which operated in and around New York about two years ago, is known in Salisbury as J. D. Mowry. He came here three months ago and bought a farm about five miles from town.

Detective McKenna of the New York police department, who made the arrest, claims to have traced Dowsing throughout the Southern States, to China, Australia, back to Atlanta, Ga., and to Salisbury.

DEED FILED FOR RECORD.

Instrument Transferring Property to Wilmington Terminal Company.

As local counsel for the Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies Steamship Lines, embracing the Clyde, Mallory, Porto Rico and Ward lines, J. O. Carr, Esq., yesterday filed for record in the Register of Deeds' office here the deed transferring from the S. & W. H. Northrop Lumber Company, Inc., to the Wilmington Terminal Company, what is known as the Northrop property, fronting one whole block on the Cape Fear river, from Castle to Queen street, and running back from the river to Surry street.

The consideration named in the deed is $55,000. A few days ago a mortgage was placed on record from the Wilmington Terminal Company to the S. & W. H. Northrop Company for $62,900. The deed is executed in behalf of the S. & W. H. Northrop Company by Samuel T. Pleasants as president and A. Barnes Carter, vice president and treasurer and acting secretary. The offer of the Wilmington Terminal Company, made through Mr. James L. Robertson, of Wilmington, who is part owner and has had charge of the property, was submitted to the board of directors at a meeting in Richmond on July 23rd. It was voted to accept the offer, $5,000 to be paid in cash and balance in one, two and five years.

Mr. Henry R. Mallory, president of the Wilmington Terminal Company, incorporated under the laws of Maine, is also president of the Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies Steamship Lines, and it is believed that the transfer of the property means a big terminal development in the southern part of the city.

MRS. SOPHIE MOORE DEAD.

Aged Lady Passed Away at Currie at Family Home Friday Afternoon.

Friends of Messrs. J. J., M. M., M. L. and W. C. Moore and Mrs. Annie S. Biggs, of this city, were grieved to learn of the death of their mother, Mrs. Sophie E. Moore, at the family home at Currie Friday afternoon. The funeral was held from the home Saturday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Carter. The interment was in the family burying ground near Currie. On account of his age and illness her beloved husband was unable to attend the funeral rites at the grave.

Mrs. Moore had attained the ripe age of 74 years, and during her long and useful life had been a faithful and devout Christian. She had a host of friends who greatly regret her death. Besides her children who live in this city, she is survived by her husband, one brother, Mr. John H. Brinson, of Currie, and two grandsons, Messrs. James Stokes, of Burgaw and W. B. Stokes, of Wilmington. For a number of years it had been the wish of the children to have the parents to come to Wilmington to live with them, but they preferred to continue to reside at the old home. Now that she has passed away her husband, who has been ill for several months, will come to Wilmington and make his home with his children.

Were Married July 28th.

Announcement was made yesterday that Mr. Jack T. Newman, Jr., and Miss Mildred Maunder, of this city, were married at Conway, S. C., on Monday, July 28th. After their marriage they went to Myrtle Beach, where they spent three days, returning to Wilmington last Friday. They are staying at Mr. D. W. Chadwick's No. 107 Walnut street. They had planned to keep their marriage a secret for the present, but finally the rumors of their marriage became so persistent that they decided to make it public.

Right Hand Badly Crushed.

John Moore, who is employed by the Beach Water Company at Wrightsville Beach, had the misfortune to get his right hand caught in the machinery of the plant at "The Hammocks" Sunday afternoon, and before the engine could be stopped the hand was fearfully mangled and lacerated. He is a sweeper at the plant and got too close to the moving machinery. He was taken to the James Walker Memorial Hospital and had to have two of the fingers amputated. He is getting along fine, and will be able to be out in a few days.

POLICE OUTING TOMORROW

Annual Excursion of Policemen to Wrightsville Beach

The police will have their annual excursion to Wrightsville Beach tomorrow. The Tidewater Power Company will provide special cars to accommodate the large crowds who will go down to enjoy the day with the "cops." The fare will be the amount usually charged. Tables have been provided at Lumina for those who wish to carry lunches. Everything is in readiness for the grand celebration, and it is expected that this will be the best excursion that the "cops" have ever had.

A feature of the day will be the square dancing at Lumina pavilion from 10 A. M. to 5:30 P. M. This is exclusively for those who believe in dancing the old way without any of the modern frills that have been added by the younger generation. However, Sergeant Grimsley and Capt. Woolard, it is understood, are busily engaged rehearsing their part which will consist of a turkey trot dance along modern lines.

The scaffold has been completed from which Sergeant Woody Howell will give his famous high dive act in the sound on the beach. Officer J. F. Smith is also busy constructing a fancy boat in which he will give fancy aquatic stunts that will make Capt. Blondell look like thirty cents. Officer J. R. Minshue will be the official clown for the occasion, and for one day he will cease to be a stern officer of the law, and will devote his distinctive talents of fun-making to amusing the crowds who will be at the beach tomorrow.

Officer W. R. Applebury, who has the reputation of being the handsomest man on the force, will have charge of the dress parade which will be one of the features of the day. The white glove squad consisting of Officers J. S. Lane, E. M. Sessoms, Chas. E. Wood, A. D. Smith, C. G. Jones and G. W. Bullard will consign six bottles of Budweiser to the mystic deep with due pomp and ceremony. They will also do other things announcement of which will be made later.

CLEVER NEGRO SWINDLER.

Fleeced Clerks in Two Stores by an Ingenious Game—No Clue.

A clever negro swindler, with an altogether ingenious swindle, is reported to the police to have worked his scheme five dollars worth on unsuspecting clerks in two Wilmington establishments Saturday and Sunday nights. The negro, well-dressed and apparently a stranger in the city, Saturday night dropped into the store of Messrs. D. H. and B. B. Bryan, Fifth and Campbell streets, held an addressed, stamped letter in his hand and asked one of the clerks if he would be kind enough to give him a $5 bill for some change which he had in his hand, stating to the clerk that he desired the paper money to send away in the letter which he had. The clerk was naturally obliging in the matter, produced a $5 bill and saw the negro deposit it in an envelope after handing in the change over the counter. After the letter had been sealed, the clerk counted over the change given by the negro and told him it was 20 cents short. The negro was apparently much "cut up about the shortage and said his wife had counted it and given it to him and that if the clerk would let him have it, he would take it across the street to show his wife that she had made the mistake. The negro very obligingly offered to leave the envelope in which he had deposited the paper money, the clerk thinking that very secure. The negro, however, never returned and upon opening the letter, it was found to contain nothing, the negro having slipped in a duplicate containing only a sheet of paper.

The same game with slight variations, was reported to the police as having been worked on one of the clerks at Bellamy's drug store Sunday night. The police were notified to look out for a flashily dressed negro answering the description of the swindler who appeared at the two stores, but have been unable to get any clue as to his identity.

HEAR PETITION TODAY

Pardon Will be Sought of Governor Craig for Leonard Merriman

Mr. L. J. Merriman left last night for Raleigh, where today he will appear before Governor Craig in behalf of his petition for the pardon of his son, Leonard Merriman, who with three other young men was convicted at Chapel Hill last March for manslaughter, it being charged that they were responsible for the death of Isaac William Rand, of Smithfield, who lost his life while being hazed at the University. Governor Craig will hear both sides of the question today.

Mr. Merriman stated last night before leaving that the pardon is recommended by Judge Peebles, before whom the case was tried; by Solicitor S. M. Gattis, who prosecuted, and he has the support of the Wilmington bar and practically all the people of the city. The purpose in seeking the pardon is to restore the citizenship of the young men. The judgment of Judge Peebles was that the boys be hired to their fathers for a certain number of months and it is stated that the time is just about up now.

MR. JOHN J. FOWLER CORONER

Former Chief of Police Elected by County Commissioners—Court House and Jail Improvements Discussed

Former Chief of Police John J. Fowler was elected coroner by the County Commissioners at their monthly meeting yesterday afternoon to succeed Dr. Joseph Akerman, resigned, for the time between now and the next election. Proposed improvements to the Court House and jail were discussed but no action was taken. Numerous other items of business were transacted by the board.

In the absence of Chairman M. S. Willard, Vice Chairman McGirt presided over the meeting, which he opened by saying that he expressed the sense of the board in stating that much sympathy was felt because the chairman had been called to the bedside of his mother, in Rhode Island, on account of her severe illness. All other members were present, as were County Attorney Marsden Bellamy and Clerk Williams.

The matters of importance considered by the board were proposed improvements at the jail and Court House. Architect Jas. F. Gause submitted plans for an addition to the jail, urged by grand juries and admittedly needed by officials. One proposed a one-story annex that would increase the capacity of the jail to a total of 60 prisoners, this to cost $4,500. Another plan was for a two-story annex, giving the building a total capacity of 80 or 85, to cost $6,200. Mr. Gause suggested building the annex on the west side of the building, between the jail and Court House. Commissioner Yopp thought it better to build the addition at the rear, on account of the relative value of space in the front and rear of the jail yard. Questions of light and ventilation were also discussed. A feature of the proposed addition will be complete separation of youthful offenders from the men and more satisfactory arrangements for the races, as well as two cells xfor insane prisoners.

Action was deferred, but the board agreed that the improvements should be undertaken as soon as possible, likewise improvements and repairs on the Court House, an estimate for which was submitted by Commissioner Moore, calling for about $2,680 expenditure.

Road Superintendent Burnett's report showed that 29 prisoners were received in July, 25 released, two escaped. An average of 16 men and 13 teams were worked on the Castle Haynes road during the month, building five-tenths of a mile of road, this work to be finished in ten days more. Camp No. 2 on the Federal Point road cleared two miles of the extension of the Carolina Beach road. The gang working from the city limits on the Federal Point road finished about seven-tenths of a mile, and the automobile truck transported 355 tons of material during July; 50 cars were moved from the mine. Work was done on the Wrightsville and Scott's Hill roads and the shell road is being patched continuously. The work of laying pine straw on the road at Sunset Park, is to start shortly.

Mr. C. H. Bornemann asked that a reduction be made in the valuation of his property at Seventh and Orange streets, and the matter was referred to Commissioner Moore and Clerk Williams. A bill for $4 for a gate near Scott's Hill, by J. M. Walker, and one for $41 for damages done by hogs breaking through the Pender-New Hanover fence, into the cantaloupe patch of Neptune Hansley, colored, were referred to Superintendent Burnett and Chairman Willard.

County Demonstrator J. P. Herring reported 70 visits to farmers in July. He said corn and potato crops are very flourishing and that more cow peas have been planted this Summer than ever before in the county. "Peas no longer have to beg a place on the farm," said he; and he reported greatly increased acreage in crimson clover, vetch, etc. The work of the corn contest was approved by farmers.

Register of Deeds Haar asked the board for the privilege of a vacation for himself and assistants, and this was granted, same not to exceed two weeks. Commissioner Yopp reported the Oak Grove cemetery cleaned up, at a cost of $20. Clerk of the Court Harriss reported $727.60 turned over to the auditor up to and including July 29th.

On motion of Commissioner Moore the gang now employed on the Federal Point road near Sunset Park, was ordered moved to grading the Castle Haynes road to the Red Cross sanitarium.

Mr. Clayton Giles addressed a letter to the board stating that he had used 10 cart loads of rock screenings and that through a misunderstanding his man had secured 10 loads more, and that he would remit when the value of the rock was fixed. It was referred to Chairman Willard.

Commissioner Yopp raised the question of electing a coroner, saying he thought the matter had been left unattended to long enough. He again suggested Dr. James A. Smith, urging the fact that a physician be elected. Commissioner McGirt suggested ex-Chief of Police John J. Fowler, and stated that Chairman Willard also favored him. Commissioner Moore expressed himself as favoring his election, as did Commissioner Kerr, and he was thereupon elected, and the clerk instructed to notify him at once so that he could arrange for his $2,000 official bond without delay. The selection of Mr. Fowler for this important office will give very general satisfaction.

Commissioner McGirt reported that somebody had dumped a cart load of rotten fish near Delgado, and Commissioner Moore reported that they were removed Friday. It was the opinion of the board that whoever did this should be indicted, and the clerk was asked to inform the board of health and also the sheriff.

Commissioner McGirt stated that signs were being placed on the roads of the county, on the right-of-way, and he thought it should be stopped. The board referred the matter to the permanent road committee, laying special emphasis on a huge sign on the Castle street extension, which, it was said, shuts off the view and makes it impossible to see cars. It was also stated that at a sharp curve on the road to Capps' store bushes obstruct the view, and the road superintendent was asked to clear up the obstruction.

No bids have been received for the road and school bonds, it was stated, but a number of inquiries have been received. Bids are not usually placed until the last. The date for opening bids is August 18th, and there will be $50,000 of road and $75,000 of school bonds offered.

County Attorney Bellamy reported no reply from the attorney general relative to the right of the Commissioners to offer reward for criminals who are fugitives from justice. In his opinion he hardly thinks the right exists in law, but decision will be awaited on the point.

Commissioner Moore reported progress on the proposition of buying rock quarry property, stating that the county could secure about 57 acres on Prince George creek from Mr. Wm. Gregerson at about $75 an acre. Investigations at the place show abundance of rock on the surface and at varying depths.

The report of the county farm showed that $109.20 had been received from different sources in July. Superintendent Burnett was requested to file the weekly reports of the convict camps. It was stated that road oil would be used at Delgado and on the road from the city limits to Sunset Park. The board thought this top dressing should be used on all the roads as fast as they are put in condition. A new carload has just been received.

At 5 o'clock recess was taken, the board to meet at the call of the chairman.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

"Big Six" Sent to Farm for Three Months for Selling Whiskey.

The Recorder yesterday sent "Big Six", alias Ed Self, alias George Davis, colored, to the county farm for three months for selling a quart of whiskey to a white man on Sunday, July 26th. "Big Six", so named, he says, on account of his big feet, is simple minded, and the Recorder stated that he made his sentence considerably milder than he would have done had it not been for this fact. "Big Six" stated that he was requested Saturday night to get a quart of whiskey and that he saw a negro named "Pally" who got the quart, and that he delivered the same on Sunday morning at the gentleman's home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Horowitz and Mr. and Mrs. A. Katz, live in the same house and Sunday there was a dispute between the two families over some business matters. Much noise ensued and Capt. Smith, of the police force, who lives nearby, heard the racket and went over to adjust matters. He was unable to do so and arrested the husbands on a charge of disorderly conduct. The Recorder found them guilty of the charge, and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

Gary Smith, colored, was let off with the costs for engaging in an affray Saturday afternoon w th a brown skinned negro who skipped out when he saw Policeman Craig coming. Henry Brown, colored, charged with carrying concealed weapons and also with committing an assault with a deadly weapon, was found not guilty. A nol pros with leave was taken in the case against Ward Nixon, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. A nol pros was also taken in the case against Ella Higgins, colored, charged with violating the dog ordinance. There were quite a number of drunks up, these being let off with fines and the payment of the costs.

Mrs. W. M. Two Persons Had Narrow Escape at Wrightsville Beach.

In an effort to swim to the first reef in front of Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, two men, one about 40 and the other about 25 years old, whose names could not be learned, became exhausted and the elder o fthe two had a very narrow escape, the timely arrival of Mr. W. B. Savage, the life guard, probably saving his life, while the younger man was not in quite as bad condition. Mr. Savage was in the life boat and was not very far from the men when they began to call for help. Mr. Savage immediately had the boat rowed to the men and got them into the craft. The older man drank in a considerable quantity of salt water, but apparently quickly recovered from the effects of his experience. Several persons had swum out to the reef and these men were following them when they became exhausted. Those standing on the reef noticed the struggles of the men about the same time they were seen by Mr. Savage and they also hurried to give any aid they could.

Two negroes were strolling down the beach between Station 1 and 3 yesterday morning about 2 o'clock when they were noticed by one of the cottagers, who called to them. The negroes broke and ran and although a search was made they could not be found. The fact that they ran when called to aroused suspicion.

A special feature of the morning concert at the Seashore Hotel sunday was the singing of Mrs. Frank Pearson, of Atlanta. Their splendid rendition of the songs was very pleasing to the audience, and they were encored time and again.

Davidson and daughter, Miss Carrie Louise Davidson, have returned to the city from Wrightsville Beach, where they spent five weeks at The Oceanic. Mr. Davidson has several fine kodak pictures of what is said to be the largest day's catch of fish at this popular resort this season. The party, including ten persons, men women and children, caught 763 fish in one day."

The enjoyment at Lumina tonight will be three-fold, cool breezes, fascinating music and interesting pictures. The moving pictures at Lumina still draw the crowds, and seem to be a source of continual amusement to those who go there. The pictures that will be shown tonight will be "The High Cost of Reduction," a Biograph comedy; "Literature and Love," a Lubin drama, and "The Matrimonial Deluge," a Western drama by the Selig Company.

OFFERS HIS PROCESS.

Mr. A. N. Dubois Would Sell City His Method of Treating Water.

Mayor Moore yesterday received a letter from Mr. A. M. Dubois, a consulting analytical textile and sanitary chemist of this city, with reference to the public water supply anent the statement by Councilman Wood at the last meeting of the City Council and the reply thereto of Mr. Geo. F. Catlett, the chemist at the waterworks plant. Mr. Dubois spoke of the fact that the water has been highly colored for he past few weeks and stated that if the treatment given it at the waterworks plant did not entirely clarify the water then there is something radically wrong with the method of treatment. He has a process of his own for purifying and clarifying water and asks that the city give him an opportunity to demonstrate its merits. He says that water treated with his process will be clear no matter how highly colored before treatment. Mayor Moore will present the the letter to the Council for consideration at the meeting tomorrow.

COTTON MARKET CONDITION

Interest Centers on Texas Weather Situation—Rain Reports Start Selling Movement—Crop Prospects.

New York, Aug. 4.—Interest in the cotton market today again centered largely around the weather situation in Texas. Early private reports of further rains started a selling movement at the opening which forced prices off six points under Saturday's close.

Although several spot houses were heavy buyers on the decline, the offerings, which included a renewal of hedge selling from the Eastern belt, where crop prospects are said to be magnificent, bore the market off to new low records for the present downward movement, January selling under 11 cents. The entire list of new crop positions at once time sold 10 to 12 points under Saturday.

Upon the arrival of the Texas weather details, at noon, however, those operating for higher prices contended that the rainfall had been neither heavy nor general enough to afford the relief desired, and on good buying led by this interest, together with renewed support from spot people and a fair trade demand, which was attracted by the approach to the 11 cent level, the market gradually regained all its previous loss, and at one time in the last hour stood even with the previous close on new crops, while August, which was influenced by Liverpool and rumors that freight room had been engaged for August shipment from the New York stock, sold up 16 points above Saturday's close.

Another setback occurred in the last few minutes on reports of rain at San Antonio, and final prices were 8 points net higher on August and 4 to 11 lower on new crops. The official forecast was for fair weather in all parts of the belt. While unfavorable for Texas and Oklahoma, this was regarded as satisfactory for Eastern States, which have had almost too much rain of late.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 12.00; middling gulf, 12.25; no sales.

SMITH CASE IN BLADEN COURT.

Suit for $25,000 Against Agricultural Society Starts Today.

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 4.—Tomorrow in Bladen county court will be called the case of J. W. Smith vs. the Cumberland County Agricultural Association, in which the plaintiff asks $25,000 damages for being carried up in a balloon involuntarily at the fair in Fayetteville, October, 1912.

The members of the Agricultural Association with their witnesses and lawyers left tonight on the City of Fayetteville, which they have chartered and on which they will live at Elizabethtown during the trial. The party is quite large.

The case will be readily recalled because of its unusual nature. Smith with others was standing near a balloon which was being made ready for an ascension, when his foot became entrangled in a rope just as the balloon shot upward. He was carried up with his head toward the earth. Luckily, the balloon came to the ground in a short time and the man was not hurt, but because of his harrowing experience, he is suing the fair association. Richard White & Hall & McLean represent Smith, while Homer Lyon, J. Bayard Clark and Rose & Rose appear for the association.

THE STOCK MARKET LISTLESS

Issues Governed Largely by Crop Conditions—Money Slightly Firmer. Intial Trading Without Foreign Influences.

New York, Aug. 4.—The course of today's listless stock market was governed at an unusual degree by crop conditions. Authoritative advices received over Sunday pointed to little relief from the protracted drouth in the West and Southwest. More thorough analysis of the corn deterioration, however, shows that it is greatest in States that have large supplies of the cereal left over from last year. Then, too, in Missouri, where the latest official report places the corn condition at 78, against 86 a month ago, all reliable signs indicate a wheat crop exceeding all expectations.

In its bearing on the general crop situation, it is interesting to note that the movement of grain from farms and interior points last week was on a very liberal scale, shipments comparing favorably with last year. Western traffic as a whole, is fairly even, and bankers in that section are less pessimistic. Money is in active demand, and merchants are borrowing heavily.

Initial trading in stocks here again lacked foreign influences by reason of London's protracted holiday. Leading issues showed a declining tendency. In the final hour the market made full recovery, and in many instances rose a point or more. Exceptions were found in the express companies, which were lower on rate reductions ordered by the Inter-State Commerce Commission and in Mexican National Railway, second preferred, which weakened on suspension of dividends for the first preferred.

Local money conditions were slightly firmer, ninety-day maturities stiffening. The bond market was irregular, with no noteworthy changes.

Government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, par value, $1,111,000. Total sales of stocks were 349,500, including American Tobacco, 200; C. and O., 2,100; Lehigh Valley, 500; L. and N., 400; N. and W., 400; S. A. L., pfd., 100; Southern Railway, 600; U. S. VACCINE FOR CONSUMPTION.

People Coming to Asheville Physician From All Parts.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 4.—Since the publication of articles to the effect that he has discovered a vaccine against tuberculosis, Dr. Karl Von Ruck has had such an influx of patients from all parts of the United States that he has decided to build another building at the Winyah Sanitarium.

Dr. George Crow, representing the United States Navy Medical Department, is still at work in the Von Ruck laboratories, and a letter has been received from Surgeon General Blue of the Public Health Service of the United States, stating that the two other men will be sent here soon to make a thorough study of the vaccine.

The Department of Agriculture has asked to be allowed to send men here to study the vaccine with a view to preventing tuberculosis in cattle.

WHY IS WILMINGTON FIRM?

Because Its Citizens Have Learned the Truth

After reading the generous and encouraging report from Mr. Winner, those who have the misfortune to suffer, as he did, will naturally long to get similar relief. But to get the same good as Mr. Winner had, you should get the same remedy. There are, of course, other kidney pills but there are no other kidney pills the same as Doan's. That is why Wilmington people demand the genuine. S. C. Winner, Jeweler, 215 E. Market street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I still believe Doan's Kidney Pills a good kidney medicine, and I cheerfully confirm the testimonial I formerly gave in their favor. This remedy has been used in my family, being procured at Bellamy's drug store, and it has given relief from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Pruritis a Severe Form of Eczema

A Method of Home Treatment that is Very Effective.

There is probably no other remedy so well known as S. S. S. for the blood. And for this reason it is the one remedy invariably called for in treating pruritis and other skin diseases. But there are many people who do not insist upon having S. S. S. and are easily persuaded to try something else "just as good," so they are told. If your blood is thin; if your skin is irritated with eczema, lupus, tetter, psoriasis, or any other blood humor; if you are troubled with pimples or boils, do not permit yourself to be talked into buying something else, but insist upon S. S. S. It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own nutriment. And the medical elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book on skin diseases, compiled by the medical department of the Swift Specific Co., 184 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice, to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

MR. PEARSALL WRITES.

Variety of Comment and News from the Sage of Rocky Point.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., Aug. 4.—There was once a saying that ran this way: "An idle brain is the devil's workshop" Sometimes we are down on our back with afflictions and have read all the literature on hand, with the Good Book, magazines, newspapers, etc., and it is a pleasure to keep the mind furbished up with a summary of the deeds and actions of the past—actions that placed communities at the forefront in special lines. We propose to give just a few smatters of history of a small part of our native county, Duplin, and will make our exodus about as near the northern boundary as possible.

In making the first survey for the Wilmington & Raleigh, afterward the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, a direct line was run to Kenansville. Maj. Wentworth Pierce, the first civil engineer, found two obstacles that seemed insurmountable. One was the many creeks running into Northeast river, causing much bridge and trestle work; and the other near Warsaw was the beautiful colonial residence of General Hill. He had a daughter, Miss Margaret, who caused the railroad to sway over to the west 10 miles, barely missing the old Duplin court house on the Duplin-Sampson line.

Warsaw was named for Mr. Thaddeus Love ("Thad of Warsaw"), and once had the biggest pork packing and bacon rendering establishment in North Carolina. It was owned and managed by the late Harold Blackmoore, who bought thousands of head of hogs, driven from the acorn and mast fields of the Neuse river. We have it from authentic sources that the catch of shad was so large at these times that six to eight cents was all they would bring. Consequently they were fed to the hogs. The day of the strawberry, Irish potato and snap bean hadn't arrived. All over Duplin during those days there were immense farms way up in the thousands of acres. Slaves and overseers to manage them. It took a plenty of substantial food to subsist on. Large gardens of collards, hanging from the old time "pot rack", boiling away in a 50-gallon cauldron; two fletches of bacon, corn dumblings and other trimmings, with gallons of good buttermilk, fried eggs and rice and sweet potatoes. If you care ever to see a duplicate, just visit the Central Hospital at Raleigh and there you will see the modern way.

But we have jumped the track and gone down the switch, and will go back to that beautiful name—is it Indian, Grecian or a drunken drummer name? It is related that once after it was learned that cantaloupes could be grown so successfully hereabouts, a certain drummer who had imbibed too freely the night before, on arriving by daylight freight, asked the porter what they were shipping so many crates for. The porter had his mouth full of nails and replied, "Can'lopes, sah", which sounded like Calypso, and since that day and time the good old name of Goshen Grove has been entirely ignored. As for us, we like the old names best. 'Druther say Sniffle 100 times than Southport once. However, some people and some towns get uppity and like to change their names.

But Calypso is all right. We went to school with the postmaster and others and know if we ever drift there and meet some of the old boy memories of the past will up and when we talk of those old days the handkerchief will be rubbing the moisture from our glasses.

The town is said to have a most excellent high school, the baby bank of Duplin (seven all told) churches in contemplation, and good roads and a plenty of good citizens. It is said if every cantaloupe and potato were a brick they have raised enough this year to have a 40-foot road from Jug Nick down in Pender, to Hanging Dog up in Cherokee—East to west; and from Fair Bluff, S. C., line, to Pleasant Hill, Va., line, north and south. We have been to all these places and hereby attach our name and signature. E. D. PEARSALL.

EDENTON JAIL DELIVERY.

Seven Negroes Saw Their Way to Freedom—Outsider Helped.

Edenton, N. C., Aug. 4.—Saturday morning about 3 o'clock seven negroes made their escape from the county jail by sawing through the cells at a point at which several prisoners made their escape a few months ago. This place had been fastened up with a heavy chain and this is what the prisoners sawed into. After part of the prisoners had gotten through this opening they went around the passage way of the cells and sawed the combination locks off of the other cells, thereby releasing the other prisoners in the jail. One negro named Banks remained in the jail, as did two other prisoners.

Those who made their escape were Tim King, tall, black, high shoulders, age 28, 150 pounds. Robert Mayo, tall dark mustache, weighs about 175, railroad man, age about 40. Luke, a Norfolk negro, age about 20, short build, weighs about 150. Tom Brickhouse, tall, black, smooth face, age 25, weighs about 170. George Bell, yellow squinch-eyed negro, age about 34, five feet ten inches high, weighs about 175. Henry Newsom, 19 years old, broad face, weighs about 140. John Underhill, black and slick, speaks quick, low build, age about 30; has a pistol wound in his right arm in the muscle which was inflicted by Jailor Wall when he attempted to escape a few weeks ago.

Sheriff E. S. Norman has offered a reward of $10 each for George Bell and John Underhill, one being held for incendiarism and the other for burglary. The sheriff also offers $5 reward for each of the others and transportation charges in all cases. There is no doubt but that they had outside help and it is expected that the party who is giving this help will be apprehended in the near future, unless they make a getaway. Sheriff Norman offers a reward of $50 for evidence to convict the party or parties who furnished the prisoners with the hack saws, etc.

COPPER MINERS' STRIKE.

Attempts to Split Interests of Strikers Result in Disorder.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 4.—Attempts were made today to split interests of striking copper miners by organizing local unions independently of the Western Federation of Miners. A meeting that crowded the Red Jacket town hall, broke up in disorder when Jance Terzich, of the Federation's executive board, ordered all union men to leave.

A misunderstanding caused a battalion of troops to be sent to the place, but the crowd had dispersed when the militiamen arrived.

Before the sudden ending of the session an organization committee was selected which is to continue the work tomorrow.

Several companies called for miners and trammers to re-enter the shafts today, but so few responded that none of the mines tried to operate.

EMMANUEL CASTILLO BRITO.

Diplomatic Complications May Arise at Hearing for His Release.

New Orleans, Aug. 4.—That the habeas corpus trial hearing for the release of Emmanuel Castillo Brito, provisional governor of the Mexican State of Campeche, held here by Federal officials upon a telegraphic request of the present Mexican government, will serve to call the hand of the State Department and possibly the administration as to the status of the diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico is the belief of several Latin-Americans and officials versed in diplomatic affairs. Brito is charged with murder and robbery in Mexico.

It is pointed out that the attorney general's department has acted upon the official request of the Huerta government, which has not been recognized by the United States, and that when United States Judge Rufus E. Foster is called upon tomorrow to pass upon the matter, he will of necessity, be forced to first ascertain just what are the official returns of the two governments.

Attention has also been directed to recent utterances credited to President Wilson relating to the manner in which the Huerta administration obtained the Mexican governmental machinery and the slaying of President Madero and Vice-President Suarez.

In this connection, it is also pointed out that the Huerta government is asking the United States to send back Governor Brito to Mexico for being guilty of practically the same offense as that credited to Huerta when he assumed the reins of government.

The question is asked that if Huerta cannot be recognized by the United States for these reasons, how can the United States officially assist that government in regaining jurisdicition over Brito, who is held to be guilty of the same offices. It is understood that these and similar questions will be asked at the trial of Brito, and that the defense will be clearly outlined in this manner.

Washington, August 4.—The release from custody at New Orleans of the agents of the Department of Justice, detained for the alleged acceptance of a bribe to prevent the arrest of Former Governor Brito, of Campeche, Mexico, means, it is believed by officials here, the transfer of the case from the State to the Federal authorities. The meagre official advices received by the Department of Justice tonight led officials to conclude that the State charge of black mail originally preferred against Special Agent Matthews, J. L. Mott, his assistant, and the Mexican, Fernandez, practically had been dropped and that the Federal government would now investigate to determine whether any attempt had been made to solicit a bribe by those accused.

Mott was released from the government service by the Department of Justice tonight. It was explained that this was not due to the charges against him, but to the fact that there was no need for him. He had been employed to watch shipments of arms and ammunition.

EXTEND BALKAN ARMISTICE

Peace Delegates Agree to Allow Three Days More for Consideration

Bucharest, Rumania, August 4.—A three days' extension of the armistice between the Balkan States was agreed to today by the peace delegates of Rumania, Servia, Greece, Montenegro and Bulgaria. This action was taken to enable the plenipotentiaries to endeavor to reconciliate the difficulties and claims of the various States.

M. Majoresco, the Rumanian president and permanent president of the conference, in proposing the three days' extension of the armistice, said that no further prolongation would be asked and that therefore the labors of the conference must be completed Friday.

It is understood that Rumania is determined that the peace preliminaries shall be signed Friday, and that the unsettled points, such as the ownership of Istip, Kotschana, Radovischtah and Strumitza shall be submitted to the decison of the powers. It is believed Greece will retain Kavala.

RAILROAD MAN HURT

Yard Switchman Clarence Suggs Injured at Fayetteville

Fayetteville, N. C., August 4.—Clarence Suggs, yard switchman for the A. C. L. at this place, sustained painful injuries here yesterday when his foot was caught in the switch as he stood waiting for a string of cars to pull up. Unable to move, he could only swing his body clear, while the wheels caught the imprisoned member and crushed it. He was taken to the office of the A. C. L. surgeon, Dr. J. V. McGougan, where his wound was dressed. It was not thought that it would be necessary to amputate the limb and he is reported today as doing very nicely.

MISSED RAT—HIT WIFE.

Negro in Asheville Makes Poor Exhibition of Marksmanship.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 4.—Arthur Booker, colored, made a rather novel plea in city police court, when on trial charged with assault with intent to kill. He claimed that while shooting at a rat at his home several weeks ago, his aim was bad and he struck his wife instead. He maintained that the rat had been bothering him so he decided to use his pistol to get rid of the pest. His wife went to the hospital the night of the affair and has just left the institution. Booker was sentenced to serve a term of two years on the county roads.

WOMAN'S DEATH MYSTERIOUS

Deceased Discovered on Railroad Track Clothed in Male Attire

Asheville, N. C., August 4.—Dressed in a pair of overalls, brogan shoes and a man's shirt, which was much torn and soiled, the body of Mrs. Etta Patton, wife of Zeb Patton, a former resident of this city, was picked up on the tracks of the Southern Railway about three miles from this city early this morning. It is believed that the deceased was struck by a freight train which passed about half an hour before the body was found. Mrs. Patton had been separated from her husband who is now in Cincinnati, for two years and had been living at Knoxville. She was about 27 years old.

Justice Couldn't Come.

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce received a telegram yesterday morning from Southport stating that a message had just been received there from E. J. Justice, Esq., of Greensboro, stating that he could not get to Southport today to deliver an address on "Relations of Seaports to Freight Rates." He may speak there later. The Wilmington organization expected to send a committee to Southport to hear Mr. Justice.

LEGISLATORS SENTENCED.

West Virginians Convicted of Bribery Get Prison Terms.

Webster Springs, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Sentences were imposed upon five members of the West Virginia Legislature late today by Judge W. S. O'Brien in the Superior Court. The legislators were convicted of bribery in connection with the election of a United States Senator early in the year. The sentences follow:

Delegates S. U. G. Rhodes, Rath Duff and H. F. Asbury, six years each in the penitentiary; State Senator B. A. Smith, five years and six months, and Delegate Davie Hill, five years. In addition the fire are disqualified for life from holding any public office or office of trust.

The sentence of the legislators came shortly after Delegate Davie Hill, the fifth to stand trial on bribery charges, was convicted this afternoon. After the sentences were imposed an arrest of judgment and stay of execution for 90 days was allowed by the court, to permit attorneys for the defendants to make applications for appeals to the State Supreme Court.

More than two months have been consumed in the trials of these charges, the first of their kind in West Virginia. There were seven legislators indicted, the firve already tried having been held in felony charges and the other two, George S. VanMetter and Rev. T. J. Smith, on misdemeanor charges. The trial of the last two will probably be deferred until another term of court.

The five convicted legislators were arrested in Charleston, W. Va., late in the afternoon of February 11th, by Sheriff Bonnerhill in the presence of Public Prosecutor Townsend, who with the aid of a private detective investigated the rumors of bribery which were being circulated at that time in regard to the Senatorial election. Before the arrest, it is alleged, they were paid by the private detective for their votes and the marked money was found in their possession. The five were indicted February 14th. Charges that Col. William Seymour Edwards, one of the candidates for United States Senator had offered bribes fell flat.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN PROGRESS.

State Troops Attempting to Draw Federals Out of Guaymas.

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 4.—Heavy firing at the front above Guaymas was reported tonight in a message from Gen. Alvarado of the insurgent forces. The State troops were said to have been attempting to draw the Federals out of Guaymas, and to have taken the outlying towns of Empalme and Sain Jose De Quaymas.

Gen. Alvarado reported that the Federal outposts withdrew to El Tunel, where the waterworks supplying Guaymas are located. Cannonading took place early today, he said, when the Federal gunboats in Guaymas harbor and the Federal batteries at Empalme opened fire on the advancing State troops.

Hermosillo, Sonora, Aug. 4.—Practically all the insurgent State troops are mobilized at Batamotal, awaiting the advance of the Federals out of Guaymas a few miles to the south. The official explanation is that the constitutionalists have determined not to attack the California gulf port if there is any possibility of the government forces advancing to meet them. The rebels here declare that the Federal remain bottled up in Guaymas.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—The cruiser South Dakota cleared today for Guaymas on the west coast of Mexica, where she will relieve the Pittsburg which will come north.

CARTER CASE COMING ON.

Former Banker Will be Tried in Asheville Federal Court.

Asheville, Aug. 4.—District Attorney Holton is here for the term of the United States District Court which will be held at Asheville this week. C. R. Hoey, Assistant District Attorney, is here to assist Mr. Holton with the court work. The latter stated today that he is ready to go into the trial of John H. Carter, former president of the American National Bank, of this city, who is charged with violations of the banking laws, and whose case has been in the Federal Court for the pats several months.

A civil calendar has been prepared for the two-weeks' term, but Mr. Holton says that this calendar was arranged with the understanding that it should be followed out only in case the Carter hearing is postponed.

To Keep Skin in Fine Condition in Summer

(From The Family Physician.)

It would be much better for the skin if little cream, powder or rouge were used during the heated term. Mixed with perspiration, dust and grime, these things are anything but beautifying. Ordinary mercolized wax will do more for the complexion, and without giving an oily, shiny, streaked, spotted or pasty appearance. It is the ideal application for the season, as it not only keeps the pores clean, but daily removes particles of scarf skin which have been soiled by dirt or weather. By constantly keeping the complexion clear, white and satiny, it does more toward perpetuating a youthful countenance than any of the arts or artifices commonly employed. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, will completely renovate the worst complexion. It is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

To keep the skin from sagging or wrinkling, or to overcome such condition, there's nothing better than a face bath made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel.
